

Remove Wages From Competition—New Deal

BUSINESS MUST SERVE MASSES

MERCHANT SAYS

Edmonton Bulletin

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN PUBLIC SERVICE

No Domination of "Chiseler"; Fact Finding Action; No Turning Back Now Can Be Made Possible

In this story a great merchant tells the A.B.C. of the New Deal. It is a subject that is being discussed in every home. Pass this along to your friends when you have read it.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 28.—The removal of wages from competition is the whole essence of the New Deal, declared Edward A. Filene, well-known Boston merchant, in an address here today.

"The New Deal is not restricting business, it is liberating business from the domination of the chiseler. It is making labor productive and it is removing wages from competition," said Filene.

His address was a powerful analysis of present day conditions in which he showed not only what happened, but why it happens, and what must be done to take this continent out of the depression and start it into its rightful era of abundance.

Boiled into a few words, this is a program of fact-finding and action.

Filene had recently conducted a transcontinental tour in which he sounded nation-wide public opinion, and he hammered home his conviction that there will be no turning back to the old class struggle. He electrified his audience with his straight-out definition of the new feeling among business men.

"I believe business men are coming to understand that business cannot sell more than its customers can buy, and that the most urgent need of business is the maintenance and constant expansion of buying power."

"I think they realize that this cannot be done unless wages are raised, unemployment eliminated and the masses endowed with more leisure to consume. These goals cannot be achieved unless business is liberated from the rule of the chiseler."

BUSINESS BASED ON MASS SERVICE

"Most assuredly recovery is the objective of President Roosevelt's program, but business recovery will not be complete until business is able to take care of itself. And it just happens to be a fact of business evolution that business can no longer take care of itself unless it organizes consciously to seek its profits in the greatest possible service to the masses."

"When business does organize for it, it will no longer complain of government interference. There will be no interference and no necessity for it."

There will be simply co-operation of Labor and Capital and Scientific Management—no operation at all concerned.

"That is the A.B.C. of the New Deal. It is a deal which leaves nobody out because, in the nature of the thing, revolutionary

PAUCE BELIEVES GERMANY DUE FOR 'CRACK-UP'

SEE KINGSTON PRISONERS BEER CORONERS JURY

Sam Behan, Who Figured in 1932 Prison Riot Trials, Succumbs While in Solitary Confinement Cell—Impending Trouble Reports Ensur

KINGSTON, Ont., May 28.—Convict Sam Behan's death in the small solitary confinement cell at Kingston penitentiary has renewed reports of pending trouble in the institution. Convicts are said to be in a sullen mood because of Behan's death but prison officials refuse to discuss prison questions.

Yesterday it was learned from authoritative sources that a fire broke out near the kitchen in the penitentiary Thursday night. It was quickly extinguished. The kitchen is under the chapel and is a wing of the cell block. It was surmised the idea of the convicts was to flood the main cell block with smoke under cover of which they could make a break from their cells.

The convicts, it was said, considered Behan as one of their leaders, but guards said he was regarded as a "smart Alec." One guard declared Behan could do more talking than all the other convicts.

Portuguese residents Sunday said sporadic shouting was heard from inside the penitentiary walls. When members of a jury visited the prison to consider evidence in the death of Behan, there were shouts from prisoners in the surrounding cell blocks. Guards said they made their way to the lower floor to inspect the cell block with its board bed about six inches above the floor. A thin mattress on top of the board bed with four blankets and sanitary towels, completed the cell furniture.

Though described as the "hole" the cell was found by the jury to be a window and a small grill door, reinforced by a wooden door which prison officials said was seldom closed.

TRIED OWN CASE—ACQUITTED
After inspecting the cell, the jury deliberated for an hour before returning its verdict which found everything possible had been done by the prison staff to aid Behan, who gained much publicity while conducting his own defence on a charge of participating in the prison riots of 1932. He was acquitted of the charge and was committed to the city jail.

Minister Issues Formal Statement

OTTAWA, May 28.—Nothing further could have been done to save the life of Sam Behan, convicted of the Portsmouth penitentiary riot of last Saturday, Thursday. This verdict was rendered by the jury which investigated his death. It was announced in a statement issued by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice.

Behan died suddenly at 7:15 a.m. on Saturday, Mr. Guthrie said. He had been taken suddenly ill shortly after seven o'clock in his cell at the hospital officer arrived at 7:05. After a quick examination he sent for the penitentiary physician but Behan grew worse and died a few minutes before the physician arrived.

The coroner's jury was made up of persons not connected with the penitentiary. The jury verdict was: "We find that the convict Sam Behan came to his death from natural causes, namely, coronary thrombosis at Portsmouth, Ont. A condition it is not possible to precisely detect and that nothing further could have been done in the opinion of this jury to save his life."

PARTY FUSION NOW DENIED

CALGARY, May 28.—Reports the United Farmers of Alberta and the Alberta branch of the Canadian Labor Party might affiliate in Alberta politics with possible Labor representation in the cabinet of Premier J. E. Brownlee, were entirely unfounded, Norman Frenkel, vice-president of the U.F.A., said yesterday.

Saturday's meeting in the U.F.A. headquarters here was a conference of the Alberta committee of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, which includes the executive of the U.F.A. and the C.L.P. Alberta branch.

The two organizations are affiliated under the C.F. for federal purposes only, he added.

No announcement of matters discussed at the meeting was forthcoming.

BODY OF SLAIN POLICEMAN IS NOW RECOVERED

Four Indians of B.C. Held in Connection—One Victim Still Missing

MERRITT, B.C., May 28.—Enos and Richardson, George, Indian brothers, were in Kamloops jail last night after they had been charged with the murder of both Indian department Constable Percy Caffrey and Provincial Police Constable Percy Carr.

Brief presentation of the charges was made in Provincial court here before Magistrate A. G. Freese and the accused were remanded for eight days.

Another brother, Joseph George, is in hospital with a fractured skull and pierced ear-drum. He is consequently deaf and generally not in a fit condition to have a murder charge presented, though it is ready to be laid when he recovers sufficiently.

The ages of the George brothers range from about 23 to 45 years. They are the waterworks department men whose definite ages are rarely known by the natives themselves.

FOURTH INDIAN HELD
A fourth Indian is being held as a material witness. Two others are being sought by police, who state one of them, it could, will be charged with murder.

An inquest will be opened this morning into the death of Gibbney. His body will be viewed so as to allow interment and an adjournment will be taken.

The body of provincial police constable Percy Carr, believed to have been killed by Gibbney, has not yet been found.

ONE BODY FOUND
Caught in the branches of a willow bush on the shore of a small island the body of Gibbney was recovered late yesterday from the Nicola river, five miles down stream from the point where police believe Gibbney and provincial police constable Percy Carr were clubbed to death in their car, then hurled into the river. No trace of Carr's body was found.

The two police officers disappeared Wednesday night when they left Carleton place after investigating a stabbing affair. Their blood-stained car was found about 100 yards from the gates to the reservation Thursday.

Discovery of Gibbney's body Saturday was made by "Big Frank" an Indian, assisting scores of police and relief camp workers in the search for the two men.

When taken from the water the body was fully clothed with the exception of one shoe which was found with the officers' car. The head had been beaten almost to a pulp.

Across the forehead were deep gashes while the skull was covered with a number of terrible bruises. Gibbney's gun was missing and the firming investigators' belief the two men, he is in the neighborhood of $100,000 and he therefore recommends an increase in the estimate.

Burglar Escapes When Surprised While At Work

A burglar, described as white, robbing the F. A. Nye stationery store, 1045 Jasper avenue, shortly before midnight Sunday, fled leaving his foot behind him as he fled.

Police reports at headquarters disclosed Monday, May 28, that the burglar was a white male, wearing a dark sweater in a box ready to be carried out.

The cash register was open but $25 which lay in one of the drawers was untouched.

Miss Shagren of the New York Exchange, 1041 101 street, reported that an attempt had been made to enter her premises. A window casing on the east side of the building was moved but boards inside prevented entrance. One of two men who were taken off and the metal stripping removed but an inner bar blocked the ingress of the would-be robbers. Failing in two attempts the thieves apparently cast it up as a bad job.

CUBAN REDS FIRE ON U.S. AMBASSADOR

Jefferson Caffrey Narrowly Escapes Assassination at Havana

HAVANA, May 28.—Several shots were fired Sunday directly into the doorway of the home of United States ambassador Jefferson Caffrey, presumably in an attempt to assassinate him.

Unidentified assailants, using a sawed-off shot gun, poured lead into the entrance where soldiers were standing guard waiting for the ambassador to come out.

One of the soldiers was struck by bullets and seriously wounded. Another soldier answered the assault and fired back, but the men escaped.

Cuban police remained waiting that a plot was afoot to assassinate Caffrey and to destroy United States property in Cuba, and a more rapid control of the international arms traffic.

Caffrey, who continued on his way to the beach, refused to say who he thought the assailants might be.

ONE BODY FOUND
Caught in the branches of a willow bush on the shore of a small island the body of Gibbney was recovered late yesterday from the Nicola river, five miles down stream from the point where police believe Gibbney and provincial police constable Percy Carr were clubbed to death in their car, then hurled into the river. No trace of Carr's body was found.

The two police officers disappeared Wednesday night when they left Carleton place after investigating a stabbing affair. Their blood-stained car was found about 100 yards from the gates to the reservation Thursday.

Discovery of Gibbney's body Saturday was made by "Big Frank" an Indian, assisting scores of police and relief camp workers in the search for the two men.

When taken from the water the body was fully clothed with the exception of one shoe which was found with the officers' car. The head had been beaten almost to a pulp.

Across the forehead were deep gashes while the skull was covered with a number of terrible bruises. Gibbney's gun was missing and the firming investigators' belief the two men, he is in the neighborhood of $100,000 and he therefore recommends an increase in the estimate.

NEW RESTRICTIVE PLAN
The great powers, to the delight of Premier Mussolini, may seek to throw disarmament headlines into a new restrictive committee to be named by the League council, and which would include Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia, the United States, Poland, representatives of the Little Entente and the Chinese. Hitler is willing, Germany.

Hustia is understood to be keenly desirous of obtaining security pact which would secure the integrity of her western frontiers and leave her free to look after problems in the far east.

EASTERN LOCARNO SCHEME
Poland, Czechoslovakia and Germany would be invited to participate in an "Eastern Locarno" accord which would place military assistance in the event of improved stability.

Despite discouragements diplomats are professing a conviction that disarmament will not be allowed to collapse.

The Gentle Art Of Profiteering

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

During the world war nobody paid much attention to tariffs except the members of the Special Privilege Class. These patriots were exceedingly rich and fat in providing materials and in selling commodities at war prices inside the tariff wall.

When the war ended, and the voters finally installed a Liberal Government at Ottawa, there was an end of profiteering. But there is so much money in profiteering that an organization was put to work, simply financed, for the purposes of bringing profiteering into effect again.

You all remember the blood-curdling press stories of prison-made clothing and underwear being brought into Canada to undersell Canadian manufacturers and reduce the wages of Canadian workmen. It was no use to publish official facts showing that no substantial volume of convict-made commodities ever existed in the United States, because next day stories and denials would simply make an endless chain.

Finally the present Prime Minister was installed in office to end unemployment, force Canadian commodities into the markets of the world and make Canada a land of plenty.

Canada was forthwith made a land of plenty of profiteering. The manufacture and distribution of commodities in the home market was placed on a war profiteering basis inside a high and unscalable tariff wall, and all of us except the profiteers became engaged in financial struggle against the effects of a sure thing game.

The visible result first apparent was a deflation which wiped out the value of all real estate and fixed assets and natural commodities. Then as it always the case, deflation having devoured the outsiders, could not be stopped, and turned on the insiders.

In an effort to stop this, an inquiry into business practices is being held at Ottawa under the chairmanship of the Honourable the Minister of Trade and Commerce. The reason given for commencing the inquiry was announced as being unfair buying practices on the part of chain stores and large merchandising corporations as the worthy operating these undertakings do not control many votes.

Once the enquiry got under way the evidence brought out such remarkable facts about profiteering that the chain stores and other large buyers were forgotten. The Honorable the Minister of Trade and Commerce himself has described the scale of wages paid by Special Privilege as "the extreme of penury." The Government, roars the Honorable Minister, will not permit this condition to exist. The answer is that the policy of the Government created the condition: building up the sky-high tariff wall in the shadows where the profiteers operate.

The Socialist agent with delight the explanations made by the Honorable Minister and make louder their declarations that the way to eat regularly is to join the Socialist party.

One would think that enough Conservative Senators and Members would see that the end of this path is the overturn of our institutions of government and the substitution of a socialist despotism.

The public are no longer convinced by political roars and empty self-praise. The public mind is set on recovery, reform, and remedy. People know that farms and homes and business buildings have real value; and that a condition rendering such assets unsaleable at any price is an artificial and dangerous condition created by Special Privilege given the profiteers and working to the national injury.

Every day the agony is prolonged adds to the public danger; and instead of abusing effects the politicians who created the causes should get out of office and let the people elect the Canadian people a chance to save their homes.

Accident Victim Dies Saturday

VEGEBVILLE, May 28—Charles Shaw, victim of an automobile accident near the C.P.R. depot at 11:30 p.m. Friday, died shortly before noon Saturday, after being taken to Edmonton in an ambulance, after he had spent the night in a local hospital.

Shaw's injuries are said to have been due to the fact that Shaw's head was out of the window at the time the car got out of control and rolled over.

Joe Greene, Jr., driver of the car, who was sentenced Saturday morning to 30 days in Fort Saskatchewan on a charge of driving while intoxicated by Magistrate T. O'Rourke-McKinnon, may now be called to face a manslaughter charge.

Greene, who was about 40 years of age, was a stock buyer here and for the last two years had been living with his sister, Mrs. Harry Greene, who escaped with slight injuries to one hand, is the son of Shaw's employer. His family is highly respected in Vegreville.

CROSS-WORLD AIR RACE MEN STAGE DISPUTE

Melbourne Officials Differ About Dissemian Among the Nations

LONDON, May 28.—An dispute arose last night between the officers of the Royal Aero Club who had charge of the Melbourne centenary air race arrangements and the chairman of the Melbourne centenary public committee.

A dispatch from Melbourne stated the public committee chairman as saying the race was giving trouble to the celebration because of the fact that it was a race between two nations, and that it had caused enmity and ill-will between nations, and that it had caused a lot of trouble among fliers in the United States.

He described it as an expensive luxury and said it would cost the city $50,000, apart from private donations of the $75,000 prize.

In London Commander Perrin of the Royal Aero Club said there was no truth in the statement the race had caused division among nations. Some points raised in the United States, he said, were made only by persons who were not acquainted with the facts. He said the race of the year had taken place without any protest.

He said also he felt sure the chairman's objection to spending $50,000 a figure he regarded as exaggerated, was not shared by the Melbourne public.

The race will be flown in October, over a 13,000-mile course between England and Melbourne.

It was simply packed in about 50 small heavy wooden boxes strapped with iron bands and sealed at the top.

identals threatened by failure to adopt labor saving machinery. This not only purpose of production is consumption and the true object of economics is production with the least possible amount of work.

The spade has its uses. Nothing is healthier, mentally or physically than an hour or two digging one's garden, but to have any real virtue the work must be voluntary. Unfortunately those most in need of the spade are the very ones least likely to make use of it.

Perhaps a few months strenuous climbing in the mountains would enable them to realize that compulsory work for wages or even relief is not the ideal, and all of it.

Joke Near Ends In Clerk's Death

CAMROSE, May 28.—A practical joke with a gun that "they didn't know was loaded," almost brought death to a clerk at the Royal Bank in the town of Camrose.

As part of the evening's fun, a clerk fired a shot at a man who was standing in the doorway of the bank. The man, who was a clerk, was not hurt, but the joke was a close call.

changes which were brought about by the evolution of the machine, we all became dependent upon one another, and could no longer deal prosperously to some without dealing to all.

SOLVING A NEW PROBLEM

He emphasized that the New Deal is not a new way of solving an old problem, but an effort to solve a wholly new problem.

This new problem had arisen out of the passing of the old era of scarcity and the arrival of the new era of abundance.

Two apt illustrations drove home his point that there could be no return to old conditions:

"We cannot return to the old road, because the old road is no longer there.

"When we rescue a drowning man we don't throw him back in at his first sign of recovery, nor when in returning consciousness he tells us rather angrily to keep his hands off."

The full text of Filer's address follows:

"We cannot comprehend any legislative program merely by studying the program. To grasp the meaning of any political policy it is necessary to understand the conditions which the policy is designed to meet."

The New Deal marks a turning-point in American history, but these administration measures did not cause the turning.

"When night comes, we may go to bed; and when morning comes, we may get up. Going to bed and getting up are two very different policies, and it is necessary to know to which is the better policy. Whether either one is right depends upon what time it is, and what the times demand."

He will surely find it hard to resist the temptation of what time it is, if we once imagine that our going to bed and getting up is what causes day and night.

"The so-called New Deal is not a new way of solving an old problem, but an effort to solve a wholly new problem—an effort to cope with a new historic situation."

For this has been great, basic change in human history, then we need worry much about the New Deal, one way or another. No political government, autocratic or democratic, is of itself likely to inaugurate any great change in the habits and characteristics of the society which it assumes to govern.

If there has been a social change, however—our customers' way of life has become no longer possible—it is the task of government to discover formulas by which the nation may go on.

Could Go No Farther Along That Road

President Roosevelt in March, 1933.

From that time I am not blaming the depression on President Hoover as a Democrat, but it is nauseating to me to hear him-brought-back party trying to convince themselves and their constituents that they are the direct result of the Republican party's actions, and would have averted if we had only known enough to elect good Democrats.

"I am not feeling anything at all like a Republican when I feel when I hear Republicanism."

The depression came because America utilized too much of any factor in the direction in which it had been going.

We had got to the end of the road and the road I speak of was not only approved by both Republicans and Democrats, but it was, in the main, the only road which America, up to a certain period, could have taken.

There came a time, however, when we could not go any farther along that direction.

UNPREPARED FOR SURPLUS

We seemed to have everything which was necessary for success. We had more power in our hands than we had ever had before.

Our way of consuming was an abundance, in fact, of almost everything which Americans had ever needed, and we had machinery and scientific management, and the people were capable of producing a still greater abundance of goods than we had.

Our way of supplying was abundant, in fact, of almost everything which Americans had ever needed, and we had machinery and scientific management, and the people were capable of producing a still greater abundance of goods than we had.

There was a limit—that was all—to where such a course could be followed. When it was reached, we simply had to change our way, and we did so.

Grits Kick Second Straight Triumph In Junior League

Carl Loblick Hits Homer To Take Lead Against Safeways and Win by Score of 9-7.

Seven errors were greatly responsible for the 7-3 defeat handed Jack Bartlett, Safeways' pitcher, by the Grits last night. Carl Loblick took the second triumph in as many starts since the opening. Safeways nine hits, four of which went for extra base knocks, a margin of one more than their opponents total, failed to overcome damage that resulted in the error. These misplays gave the winners no less than four of their seven runs.

Although the seven muffed balls were disastrous to the Safeways, Carl Loblick's long home run to left field with two runners on base caused his opponents much worry and practically won for him his own ball game.

"Huge" Lutz, clever Safeway backstop, played a brilliant game for the losers. His feinting throw, not once did he make a slip and his throws to the bases were true to perfect and few runners dared to "muck" around the bases.

"Huge" Lutz, clever Safeway backstop, played a brilliant game for the losers. His feinting throw, not once did he make a slip and his throws to the bases were true to perfect and few runners dared to "muck" around the bases.

Although the muffed balls were disastrous to the Safeways, Carl Loblick's long home run to left field with two runners on base caused his opponents much worry and practically won for him his own ball game.

RAILROADERS TAKE 4-2 WIN TO TIE SCOTS

Jimmy Ross Star Player For Winners With Good Centres

Rallying strenuously with combination of runs upon their opponents' goal line in the second half, Radicals swept through the forces of Hearts and vaulted into a first place tie with Calties by virtue of a 4-2 triumph in a first division match at Diamond Park Saturday evening. Hearts fought desperately against their opponents in the second half with only ten players, but the overwhelming odds proved too much for them and were forced to accept defeat. Laurie was banned near the end of the first half after becoming too talkative with the officials. This caused a heavy handicap to the red shirted eleven and weakened them near the end of the game, giving the winners their chance to break the existing 2-2 deadlock and win by a two-goal margin.

SQUARE UP LEAD

Full puntage from their victory boosted Radicals to five points and squaring the leadership of the division with Calties.

Jimmy Ross captured much prominence in the Radical victory, ending the game with a pretty free kick from his wing and his accurate passing to the wing which rewarded him with two goals and at least one assist on Radical goal. He received heavy applause from the fans in attendance.

DEFENSE STRONG

Both defense lines were strong and on many occasions turned back the Hearts' attack. The defense line in the Hearts' half was particularly strong and on many occasions turned back the Hearts' attack. HEARTS TOOK A SHORT LEAD

Hearts took a short lead in the opening half of the match. Paton, inside left, put a short shot into the goal in the seventh minute mark. Play at this stage was slow, and it was generally impossible to stop the invading Radicals when they came to attack the Hearts' goal.
